Figure 1 consists of two line graphs. The left graph shows the growth rate (log CFU/h) of E. coli as a function of temperature (°C) for a control group (open circles) and a group treated with 100 mg/kg ZnO (filled circles). The growth rate for both groups increases with temperature, peaking around 37°C, and then decreases. The ZnO-treated group shows a slightly lower growth rate than the control group at 37°C. Caution urged on US troop cuts in Iraq

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP) — The White House and Pentagon are urging caution as they consider whether to cut U.S. troops in Iraq, a move that could anger allies and embolden insurgents.

The White House said Sunday that it is "carefully" reviewing the issue. The Pentagon, which has been pushing for a reduction in troops, said it is "not ready" to announce a plan.

The issue is complicated by the fact that the U.S. has been fighting a long and costly war in Iraq, and there is a growing public demand for a withdrawal of troops. However, officials are concerned that a sudden reduction in troops could lead to a resurgence of violence and instability in the country.

Russia eyes big force in Georgia rebel regions

MOSCOW, Sept. 10 (AP) — Russia is considering sending a large force to Georgia's rebel regions, a move that could escalate the conflict and draw in the United States.

Russian officials have been accused of supporting the rebels, and the Georgian government has accused Russia of invading the country. The situation is tense, and there is a risk of a full-scale war.

Exports rose 4.3% to $4.43B in July. The growth slowdown is traced to weaker U.S. economy. The value of PMS 2014-15 export earnings for the first seven months of 2014 reached $4.43 billion, up from $4.25 billion in the same period last year. The increase is attributed to higher demand for Philippine exports in the U.S. market, despite the economic slowdown there.

Inadequate reforms pulling RP investment credibility down

Inadequate reforms pulling RP investment credibility down. The lack of comprehensive reforms in the Philippines is eroding investor confidence. Key areas such as labor laws, taxation, and regulatory processes need to be streamlined to attract foreign investment. The current pace of reform is seen as insufficient to meet the demands of a global market.

Peso closes at day's low of 46.95 to $1

The Philippine peso closed at its lowest point of the day, trading at 46.95 per US dollar. This is due to market uncertainty and a lack of confidence in the Philippine economy. Investors are waiting for more concrete reforms before committing capital.

The peso's decline reflects broader concerns about the Philippine government's ability to implement necessary reforms. Market participants are closely watching for any signs of policy shifts that could stabilize the currency.

By the Manila Standard Bureau

Buys 5% stake held by Gokeingwei

MANILA, Sept. 10 — The Ongpin group, which controls the Philex Mining Corp., has tightened its hold on the company by buying a 5% stake held by Gokeingwei, a local company. The move, which was completed on Sept. 9, brings the Ongpin group's ownership to 95%.

The stake was bought from Gokeingwei, which had held a 5% stake in Philex since its formation in 1997. The Ongpin group, which is led by Ongpin Group Inc., had previously held a 90% stake in the company.

Philex is a leading producer of gold and copper in the Philippines. It has several mines in operation, including the Benguet and Baguio mines. The company has a long history of mining in the Philippines and has been a major contributor to the country's economy.

The Ongpin group's move to buy the stake from Gokeingwei was part of a larger strategy to consolidate its control over the company. The group had previously bought a 5% stake from another local company, which also brought its ownership to 95%.

The move is expected to have no significant impact on Philex's operations. The company has a strong track record of producing gold and copper and is expected to continue to do so in the future.

Snell ordered to list shares

MANILA, Sept. 10 — The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has ordered Snell to list its shares. The SEC is the regulatory body for the Philippine stock market and is responsible for ensuring that all companies listed on the market comply with the necessary rules and regulations.

Snell is a leading producer of oil and gas in the Philippines. It has several large oil and gas fields in operation, including the Benguet and Baguio fields. The company has a long history of producing oil and gas in the Philippines and is expected to continue to do so in the future.

The SEC's order to list Snell's shares was part of a larger effort to increase transparency and accountability in the Philippine stock market. The SEC has been working to ensure that all companies listed on the market provide accurate and timely information to investors.

Inadequate reforms pull BP investment

MANILA, Sept. 10 — BP has announced that it is pulling out of the Philippines due to inadequate reforms. The company, which is a leading producer of oil and gas in the world, has been operating in the Philippines for several years. However, it has decided to leave the country due to the lack of progress on reforms that it believes are necessary to attract investment.

BP has been operating in the Philippines since 2004. It has several large oil and gas fields in operation, including the Benguet and Baguio fields. The company has a long history of producing oil and gas in the Philippines and is expected to continue to do so in the future.

BP's decision to pull out of the Philippines is a significant blow to the country's economy. The company is one of the largest foreign investors in the Philippines and its departure will result in the loss of jobs and revenue. It will also send a message to other foreign investors that the Philippines is not a safe place to do business.

The Philippine government has been working to implement reforms to attract investment and improve the business environment. However, BP believes that the reforms are inadequate and that the government is not doing enough to improve the situation.

BP's decision to pull out of the Philippines is a setback for the country's efforts to attract investment and improve its economy. It highlights the need for the government to continue to work on reforms and to ensure that it is doing enough to attract investment.

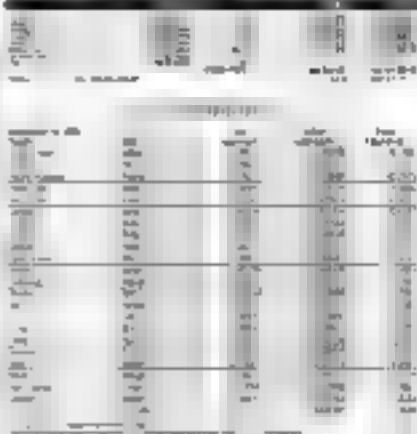

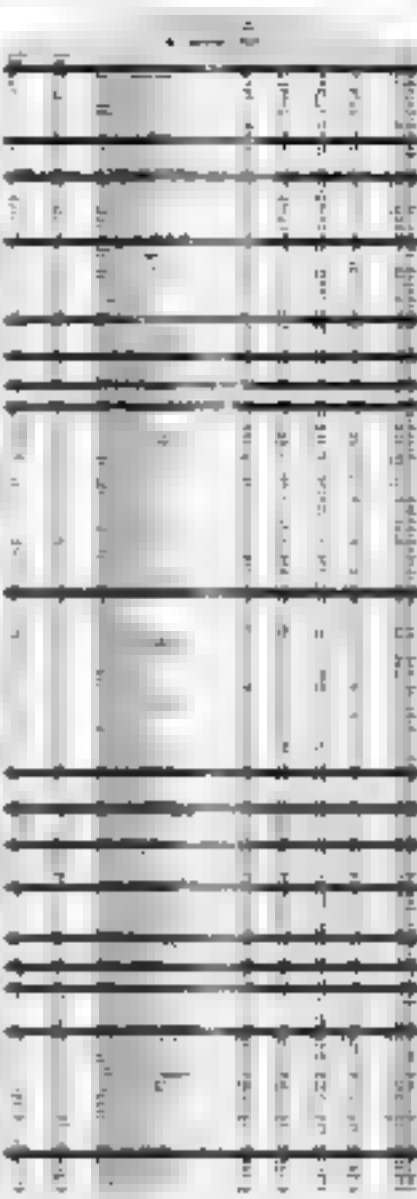

POND NOW AT 45-55 TO 5

MANILA, Sept. 10 — The pond level is now at 45-55 to 5. The pond is a large body of water located in the Philippines and is used for various purposes, including fishing and recreation. The level of the pond is currently low due to a lack of rain and is expected to remain low for some time.

The pond is a popular destination for tourists and locals alike. It is a beautiful area with many scenic views and is a great place to spend a day. However, the low water level is a problem for many of the activities that take place in the pond.

The Philippine government is working to address the problem of the low water level. It has been working to improve the water supply to the pond and is expected to have the water level back up to normal in the near future.

The pond is an important part of the Philippines' natural heritage and it is important that the government continue to work to protect it. The low water level is a threat to the pond's ecosystem and it is important that the government take steps to prevent this from happening again.
